by Pastor Jeff Halvorson Sheyenne Oberon Area Ministers

I remarked the other day that when I was young, I would hear "old" people talk about how fast time went the older they got. I thought that was pretty silly. Time was time, it didn't change speed. Now, being that I am included in that "old fogy" group, I do in-deed understand that time goes by more quickly the older I get. Now here we are nearing the end of summer. How did that happen so quickly? Seems like just last week seed was going in the ground and now it is time for harvest. Teams involved in fall sports are practicing and the summer sports are nearing their end. Parents are shopping for kids' school supplies. One thing that is also going by quickly is the amount of

On a daily basis we only lose a couple of minutes of daylight each day and isn't even noticeable. But, at a few minutes a day, think what we have lost since the solstice on June 21. We now have over an hour less daylight than we did then. This brings to mind how often the word "light" is found in our Bible. In the third verse of our Bibles, Genesis 1:3, God said let there be light and bam! (I added the bam), there was light. In 1 John 1:5, he writes God is light and there is no darkness in him. In Matthew we read that Jesus likened God's word to a lamp. He said you don't light the lamp and then put a basket over it. Instead, when we light the lamp, we put it on a lamp stand so that it can light the darkness. In Psalm 4:6, the writer says, "O that we might see some daylight we have each day. good. Let the light of your face ble and fall. We can nego-

shine on us O Lord." I could go on and on of course but I'll end with an "I am" statement from the Gospel of John. Jesus made a number of "I Am" statements during his ministry. This one in John 8:12 says, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness but will have the light of life."

We need light, both physically and spiritually. If we walk in darkness we may lose our way or even stumble and fall. In our own house, we can find our way because we are familiar with it. We know where every piece of furniture is located. We might bump into a chair once in a while but no problem, we can find our way. Think of this in a spiritual sense. If we walk in darkness, without God's light, we also may lose our way and maybe stum-tiate our way in our home at night but what if every night, someone comes in and rearranges our furniture. You might think you are on the right path but vou run into everything. You could even get injured. You need to turn on the light. That's what Satan does in our lives. He will put many stumbling blocks in our way. He doesn't want us to find our way. He doesn't want us to follow God's light.

When children have special music for our worship service, sometimes they sing "This Little Light of Mine." This little light of mine, I'm going to make it shine. Jesus gave it to me, I'm going to let it shine. I pray that each of you are led by God's light. I urge vou to let others see the light God has given you. Blessings.

Living on Purpose

by Billy Holland

Being honest with God and ourselves

In the field of psychology, cognitive dissonance is the perception of contradictory information and the mental toll of it. Relevant items of information include a person's actions, feelings, ideas, beliefs, values, convictions and things that are going on all around us. Cognitive dissonance is typically experienced as mental and emotional stress when an individual participates in an action that goes against what they know is right. According to this theory, when two desires or ideas are not consistent with each other, people will try to justify and compromise until they become consistent enough to be accepted. This discomfort is triggered by the person's knowledge clashing against new informareduce their guilt.

This might sound like a lot of psychological gobbledy goop, and you might be asking, what does all of this have to do with me and the way I live? I'm glad you asked. We all have a thoughts going on in our minds, and how we deal balanced and spiritually content person. I'm not excited about it, but we are constantly exposed to negative voices and influences that we might consider, but I hope we refuse. The point is to come to the place where we are honest with God and ourselves. Many of our headaches and anxieties are self-inflicted and our temptations often come from areas where are weak and vulnerable. The devil has been watching us for a long time and there is no reason for him to stop using tactics against us that are always successful.

Take it for example, we know that we should stop wasting so many hours each day playing on our phones and television, but we do it anyway. Why? Because we want to. Of course, if we really believe this is a serious problem tion when it's introduced, we would turn them off. wherein the individual but instead, it's much eastries to find a way to re- ier to ignore it with a comsolve the contradiction to promising and enduring attitude. This is cognitive dissonance. The general idea of living on purpose is to examine every aspect of our lives and develop a desire to become the best version of ourselves we can be. Or, in other words, it lot of personal and secret should be important to us that we are the person that Jesus died for us to be. The with it goes a long way to- subconscious discomfort ward being a more stable, we are talking about is an internal misery that does tion with our weight? Some not need to be a part of our lives. We want peace and the more we please God and follow His voice, the less we are convicted and condemned for our willful disobedience.

We realize we need to take control of our mental and spiritual condition instead of allowing our fleshly desires and emotions to control us. In the same way that Adam and Eve were ashamed in the Garden, we also feel that guilt when we do not obey what God is saying. It's an illusion to expect spiritual joy and contentment to fall out of the sky. Rather, since we have been given free will to make our own decisions, our destiny has everything to do with whose voice we follow. This is not to say that God does not have a plan for us or fails to intervene, but much of the time He blesses what we give Him. Our responsibility to serve Him is refusing sin and being willing to guard our most precious assets our mind, spirit and the Holy Spirit within us.

analyze every bite and go to the gym to maintain a healthy lifestyle. Counting calories gives them the security to know they are being good. Others could care less about being healthy and are willing to take as many medications as necessary to maintain their existence. Those who smoke realize it's linked to cancer, but are convinced they can get away with it. The same is true with alcoholism. And what about the ones who secretly watch pornography and then try to secretly justify their behavior? Whatever our vices and struggles, our contradictions are trying to convict and warn us. God sees and knows everything, and when His truth does not line up with our actions, asking Him for help is the best decision we could ever
